6. Conference fee: Details will be available shortly
As the conference involves a dedicated programme over several days the conference fee will be for the whole conference period. An early bird registration option is planned.

The conference fee will cover the tea/coffee sessions, lunches and the fieldtrip “Multi-scalar dynamics of Barcelona’s economic space”.

The Conference dinner is not included in the conference fee. This will be a separate cost.

7. Fieldtrip. Title “Multi-scalar dynamics of Barcelona’s economic space”.
Description: The fieldtrip will visit to Barcelona’s new logistic hub: the airport and high-speed train lines. It will explore the physical infrastructure of the city’s market space.

8. Focus of conference.

We invite papers that contribute to the conference theme:

“Worlds of new work? Multi-scalar dynamics of ‘new’, ‘transition’ and ‘old’ economy spaces”

In the 21st century economic geographers in many countries have been making major contributions to understanding the emergence of new economic spaces and new dimensions of established economic spaces. The Commission’s 2008 theme continues the exploration of the multi-scale dynamics of new economic spaces by highlighting the worlds of new work that are accompanying the making of new economic spaces.

Recent Commission meetings suggest that, depending upon where in the world economic geographers are living, working and undertaking research, makes a considerable difference to the issues being addressed, the literatures regarded as especially relevant and approaches selected to disclose understandings of new economic geographies.

The 2008 theme is intended to offer economic geographers from a wide range of perspectives, countries, contexts and work situations, the opportunity to participate in the Barcelona meeting. Papers are sought that use the conference theme as a strategy to explore fresh dimensions of established understandings, identify new aspects too.

A number of sub-themes that might form the setting for the exploration of worlds of new work include:

- Economic development, innovation and technology from the perspective of the firm
- Institutional and regulatory frameworks: the role of public, private and not-for-profit sectors in the innovation economy.
- Local logistic adaptations to global trends. Case studies of logistic investment and infrastructure (ports, airports, high-speed train lines, telecommunications).
- Government initiatives in high-technology development. Case studies of local, regional or national state government programs to stimulate, attract, or retain high technology industrial development.
- Cities, city-regions and new spaces of work
- New regional politics and regional entrepreneurialism
- Knowledge transfer in enterprises
- Organisations, intellectual property and inimitability
- Urban spaces, higher education and work
- Agglomeration, knowledge spaces and knowledge transfer
- Evolution of jobs and skills in different geographical contexts
- Geographical perspectives on migrant labour and migrant transnationalism
- Food regimes and changing agri-food relationships
- Globalisation and the changing roles of the state
- Cities, consumption and new economy spaces
- Creative industries and work dynamics
- Work in post-socialist economic landscapes
- Other suggestions are most welcome
